Local Veteran, Poet and Artist Johnny One Feather to present a Children's Native American Jewelry Making Program at the library

Rapid City, SD – November 5, 2008 -- There's no school on Monday, November 10, but that doesn't mean that kids need to sit at home being bored all day. Join us at either Rapid City Public Library location on Monday, November 10 to participate in a 'No School Discovery Day' program presented by local veteran, poet and artist Johnny One Feather.

Johnny partners with the library once again this November to teach children how to make Native American jewelry. The program takes place on Monday, November 10 from 9:30-11:30 a.m. at the North library (10 Van Buren Street – in General Beadle Elementary School) or from 2:00-4:00 p.m. at the Downtown library (610 Quincy Street). This program is design for school age children and no registration is necessary. Kids can make something for themselves or a gift for someone else.

November is 'Native American Heritage Month @ The Library' and the library celebrates in many ways including --- special programming, a 'Living Traditions Art Exhibit' and a display presented by the Black Hills Pow Wow Association. For more information on Native American Heritage Month programming, exhibits and displays, please visit the library website at www.rapidcitylibrary.org.
